Why should student apply through H & I Council?

Since 2000 H & I Council has been recruiting students for different Universities. We represent a good number of universities in Australia, UK, Canada, USA, Germany and Malaysia. Our counsellors have huge experience regarding Application and Visa processing for those countries. Most of the counsellors are trained by the British Council, British High Commission, QEAC Australia, ICEF and by different Universities. We also have experience working as High Commission's approved partner. Students need not to pay any service charge before or after VISA.

Why choose Canada?

Academic Excellence :

One of the most important reasons why students choose to study in Canada is because of the high quality of education. When a student receives a degree from a Canadian university, it acts as a mark of trust and excellence.

Quality Education :

Canada's universities maintain high standards of academic excellence and are consistently recognized in top international rankings.

Affordable Tuition Fees :

Canadian tuition fees are some of the lowest in English-speaking countries.

Traditions & Culture :

Throughout Canada's history, its culture has been influenced by European culture and traditions, especially British and French, and by its own indigenous cultures. Over time, elements of the cultures of Canada's immigrant populations have become incorporated into mainstream Canadian culture. The culture of Canada is a term that embodies the artistic, culinary, literary, humor, musical, political and social elements that are representative of Canada and Canadians.

Safe and peaceful :

Canada has been consistently ranked as one of the safest nations in the world. In 2020, the Global Peace Index*, listed Canada as the sixth peaceful country across the globe. As international student, you'll enjoy the same rights as any other Canadian.

Working in Canada :

International Students in Canada are allowed to work 20 hours per week during semester and 40 hours per week on vacation.

Immigration opportunities :

Canada's Post-Graduation Work Permit Program (PWPP) allows students to stay and work in Canada for up to three years after completion of their graduation. You can gain some international work experience and apply for permanent residency later.

Study in UK

Why study in the UK?

Popularity :

UK is now the second most popular destination for international students, behind the US. QS World University Ranking says "Four of the top ten universities on the planet are in the UK"

Value for Money :

The cost of degrees for an international student in the UK can be generally lower compared to the USA and other countries. Because your degree will generally take less time to complete in the UK than in other countries, this will save you money.

Research :

The UK undertakes 5 percent of the world's scientific research and produces 14 percent of the world's most frequently cited papers.

Teaching Methodology :

The teaching and study methodology used in the UK gives you the freedom to be creative and develop skills sets and confidence. UK degrees can be tailored to your interests and often include specialized modules.

■ Economy :

London is the world's largest international financial center. UK is today the fifth-largest economy in the world and the second-largest in Europe. Britain's aerospace industry is the second- or third-largest national aerospace industry depending on the method of measurement. UK has the third-highest share of global pharmaceutical research and development. Of the world's 500 largest companies, 26 are headquartered in the UK. The British economy is boosted by North Sea oil and gas production; its reserves were estimated at 2.9 billion barrels in 2015.

Study in Australia

Reasons to study with Australia?

Australia is known for its diverse and welcoming people - there are so many reasons to consider studying with an Australian education provider.

💡 Discover how to be an innovative, agile thinker

Australian universities, colleges and schools are committed to equipping you with practical skills and knowledge to help you succeed in your chosen industry. As global demand booms for entrepreneurial and innovative thinkers, Australian education providers have re-engineered their approaches to teaching and learning to inspire thought-leading creativity among students in every discipline.

👉 Study at globally ranked institutions

Australia is setting international standards for excellence in education. The Australian education sector comprises world-leading education institutions, premium training facilities, and outstanding lecturers and student support services.

If you're looking for unbiased proof that Australian universities truly are world-class, look at independent global rankings such as Times Higher Education, QS and Shanghai Rankings. These organisations consistently rank Australian institutions in the world's top 100 universities year after year.

👉 Gain work experience while you study

There are many valuable skills and experiences to gain if you choose to study in Australia.

Australian institutions provide an education designed to help you succeed in the global workforce. An Australian qualification will make you very attractive to potential employers in Australia, at home and around the world.

Many Australian degrees and vocational courses include work experience programs and internships so you can gain hands-on industry experience and grow your professional network while you study. Once you complete your degree, you may also be eligible to stay and work in Australia.

While studying, you can work up to 20 hours per week during the semester and full-time during the semester break. This can be a great way to find study-related work or simply pay for your lifestyle in Australia.

Access extensive student support services

Australian institutions offer a huge range of student support services to help you settle into your new life in Australia. Education providers must comply with strict quality control and government accreditation measures so you can be assured you will receive only the best service. In several cities and towns, there are dedicated international student support centres, each offering practical advice and support on issues like legal rights, job skills and opportunities to meet and socialise with other local and international students.

Live and study in safety

Australian cities have some of the lowest crime rates in the world, and our streets and public spaces are open and safe. There are many options for accommodation: you can live in purpose-built student villages, homestays, private rentals, share-houses or boarding school accommodation.

Feel welcome in a multicultural society

Australia is a friendly and welcoming country. Our nation values individual freedoms, and the rights of citizens and visitors are protected under a transparent legal system.

We are also a multicultural society with respect for others no matter who they are or where they come from. Did you know almost 30% of Australians are born overseas? This has made our country rich with nationalities and cultures from all over the world.

When you study in Australia, you will join more than half a million international students from 192 countries who have been welcomed into Australian life.

Make the most of Australia's great outdoors

With a unique mix of thriving cities and regional centres, vast open spaces and spectacular landscapes, it's no wonder Australia attracts people from all over the world.

The first thing you will notice when you land in Australia is our fresh air and blue skies. We have a long history of protecting the beauty and sustainability of our environment. The result? Clean and sustainable cities and regional centres with plenty of green spaces and relatively low air pollution.

Our diverse natural environment offers a range of experiences – you can relax on our golden beaches, venture into our national parks to see our unique plants and animals, and explore the untamed outback.

thumb Enjoy a high standard of living

Australian cities are consistently ranked as some of the most liveable in the world. Our quality of education, healthcare, transport, infrastructure and government services are rated well above international averages.

Australia is a technologically advanced country with a strong, globally competitive economy. You will enjoy all the benefits of high-quality services, transportation and infrastructure in our towns and cities.

person Employment opportunities

Our educational institutions make students work-ready and understand what it takes to succeed in the global workforce. An Australian qualification will make you a very attractive potential employee to employers in Australia, at home and around the world.

8 Steps to Get a US student Visa:

Step 1: Apply and Get Accepted to a US School

The first step is to apply (and eventually gain admission) to a US school. Most full-time undergraduate and graduate programs in the US require applications to be submitted by December or January each year. Schools typically send out admission notification around March and April.

Step 2: Receive Form I-20 or DS-2019 From Your School

Once admitted to a school, you'll receive one of two forms: F1 and M1 students will receive Form I-20 (Certificate of Eligibility for Nonimmigrant Student Status), and J-1 students will receive Form DS-2019 (Certificate of Eligibility for Exchange Visitor (J-1) Status).

Your school will mail the appropriate form to you. On your form will be your Sevis ID, your school's address, and other critical information concerning your program. You will need this form for your visa interview and to pay certain fees.

Once you've paid this fee, print out your confirmation page, as you'll need to bring it to your visa interview.

Step 4: Find your Nearest US Embassy or consulate

You must apply for your international student visa through your nearest US embassy or consulate.

Step 5: Complete Form DS-160 Online

Next, complete the online Nonimmigrant Visa Application, also known as Form DS-160. To successfully fill out this form, be sure you have the following items on hand:

Your passport

A VISA photograph

Form I-20 or DS-2019 (remember, which form you receive depends on whether you are an F-1/M-1 or J-1 student)

In addition, you may need to supply:

- A travel itinerary (if you've already made travel plans to the US)
- The dates of your last five visits to the US (if applicable) and/or evidence of your international travel history within the past five years
- A resume or CV
- Additional information depending on your purpose for travel

Step 6: Schedule your Visa interview

After you've submitted Form DS-160, to schedule your visa interview, Wait times for interviews vary depending on the embassy.

Step 7: Pay your Visa Application Fee

Next, pay the 160 USD application fee.

Step 8: Attend Your Visa Interview

The last big step in the visa process is the interview. This interview will be the deciding factor as to whether you will receive a US student visa or not.

Before attending your interview, gather the following items and information:

Your passport

One copy of your visa photograph (this may be required by certain embassies, particularly if you were unable to upload your visa photograph to your online visa application)

Your printed DS-160 confirmation page

Your printed I-901 SEVIS fee confirmation page

Your visa application fee payment receipt
Form I-20 for F-1/M-1 students, or Form DS-2019 for J-1 students (make sure to bring the orginal form-not a copy!)

Your particular embassy may require additional forms and documentation, such as:

Official transcripts from college/universities you've attended

Diplomas/degrees from high schools/colleges/universities you've attended

Standardized test scores (if required by your US school)

Proof of sufficient funds

Proof of your intent to depart the US at the end of your program

You will undergo a security check and provide digital, ink-free fingerprints, usually right after you arrive at your interview.

During the interview, you will be asked a range of questions in English. These questions will mostly focus on why you want to study at the school you've selected and what you intend to do after the program finishes. It is important to clearly state that you do not to remain in the US once you complete your program.

If your interview is successful, your embassy will then inform you when and how it will return your passport (with your new visa) to you. (To get your visa, you must leave your passport with your embassy.)
